Decisions Investigated

A case study of Anders Fogh Rasmussens decision-making process before leading Denmark into armed conflict with Iraq.

"How was the decision making process during the buildup for the Iraq war, and how did the role of the individual decision maker in the Danish government affect the decision on the Iraq war"

Simon Ubbe

10. Semester – Thesis

Culture, Communication, Globalization

Specialization: International Relations

Supervisor: Helene Pristed Nielsen

AALBORG UNIVERSITY